Navigating the Military Justice System: What You Need to Know (Quick Prep) Charles E. Feldman
A must-read for all past and present US military personnel, Navigating the Military Justice System, acquaints the reader with the most relevant aspects of the military justice system. Written by an experienced and aggressive military law attorney and former Marine Corps JAG, this easy-to-absorb publication contains all the crucial information you'll need to navigate the military's system of justice. Included in this publication are easy-to-understand summaries of the policies and procedures related to non-judicial punishment (Captain's Mast/Article 15), courts-martial, the various discharges from service, sexual assault crimes, post-traumatic stress disorder, veteran affairs benefits, and more. Get advice on how to find a free military attorney, what your rights are under the military's system of justice, and what to do if confronted as the subject of a military investigation. Also included is a frequently asked questions section to help service members quickly prepare for and respond to some of the most common situations and questions. Complete with appendices that reference the multiple military manuals, websites, and numerous other practical resources, this book is the definitive guide on navigating the sometimes overwhelming military system with confidence.

About the Author Charles E. Feldmann, a former prosecutor and defense counsel in the United States Marine Corps, is a frequent lecturer and instructor at the United States Naval Justice School, a trainer for military attorneys with the Department of Defense, and a former adjunct professor in the areas of criminal and constitutional law. Mr. Feldmann leads his firm's courts-martial defense practice at Military Justice International, the military division of Feldmann Nagel LLC (Feldmann-Nagel.com).
